

LIFE OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM

LIFE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA SCHOOL OF LAW is marked by convenience:

Students benefit from nearby amenities both on and off Grounds.

Entertainment and dining choices are plentiful, and options to explore both city life and nature are a short walk or drive away.

The environment contributes to students' ability to form bonds with each other and helps create a community that emphasizes work-life balance.

YOU'LL FIND A HOME IN THE UVA LAW COMMUNITY.

HOUSING OPTIONS

Most students choose to live in off-Grounds apartments or houses, many of which are within a 5-10 minute walk of the Law School. On-Grounds housing includes apartments for singles and families, and the historic Range, a graduate community for single students.

INFORMATION

law.virginia.edu/housing

DINING CHOICES

The Sidley Austin Café and Greenberry's Coffee Bar, located within the Law School, offer breakfast, lunch and snacks every week day during the school year. In addition, students often join professors and administrators for lunch in the law.virginia.edu/dining

INFORMATION

Law School's Philip M. Stone Dining Room. There are also a dozen upscale restaurants and two grocery stores a short walk from the Law School.

FITNESS AND RECREATION

Students have access to all of the University's world-class fitness and recreation facilities, including four on-Grounds fitness centers, the Snyder Tennis Center, the McArthur Squash Center at the Boar's Head Sports Club, and Birdwood Golf Course. The North Grounds Recreation Center, just down the street from the Law School, features a 10-lane lap pool, hot tub and sauna, group exercise classes, a dedicated multimedia cycling room and three handball/racquetball courts. That's in addition to cardiovascular training equipment, strength-training machines and free weights. The University's Outdoor Recreation Center serves students, faculty and community members wishing to take advantage of area hiking, camping, rock-climbing and water sports.

INFORMATION
recsports.virginia.edu

VIRGINIA SPORTS

UVA Law students have opportunities to get tickets for regular-season home athletic events. Students simply present a valid UVA student identification card to gain access to most home sporting events.

INFORMATION
Student ticketing policy (including details on men's basketball ticketing):
virginiainsports.com/student-tickets.html

DAY CARE AND PRESCHOOLS

Charlottesville boasts more than 40 day care and preschool options for area families. The University of Virginia Child Development Center operates two child care centers within a five-minute drive of the Law School. These facilities provide full-day programs to children from 6 weeks to 5 years old.

INFORMATION
Child Development Center:
 (434) 977-3973
Infants and toddlers:
 (434) 293-6100
University and Charlottesville-area day care and preschool options:
law.virginia.edu/schools

TRANSPORTATION AND GETTING AROUND

The Law School is a 9-mile drive from the Charlottesville Albemarle Airport, and the city has an Amtrak train station and Greyhound bus lines a short drive from Grounds. City and University bus lines make getting around without a car possible, though many students enjoy the convenience of having a car. Parking is available close to the Law School for a monthly fee.

INFORMATION
law.virginia.edu/cville
Details on parking permits:
virginia.edu/parking

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR DISABILITIES

UVA Law's Student Affairs Office works with UVA's Student Disability Access Center to coordinate all accommodations for law students with disabilities.

Admitted students may make confidential inquiries regarding accommodations.

CONTACT
 Sarah Davies
 Assistant Dean for Student Affairs
sdavies@law.virginia.edu

LIVING IN CHARLOTTESVILLE

More things to do in Charlottesville, area attractions, entertainment and dining options: law.virginia.edu/cville

law.virginia.edu/admissions

CONTACT
 Office of Admissions
 (434) 924-7531
admissions@law.virginia.edu

SCHOOL of LAW